Oh Martin ♡ "in

Martin introduced me
to the beauty of wine many years ago when he managed a local bakery (short-lived business!)

He was always a joy to be around ~ his enthusiasm infections →

I will
miss him greatly ~ even though he often called me
Carol (not my name 😊)

Martin was always ready to give a recommendation + accompanying story. It was so appreciated!

A couple years ago he gave myself + a group of coworkers a wine tasting @ no charge during our holiday party @ Bella Roma - everyone talked → about it for weeks after!

Especially the "non-wine drinkers".

Martin will be greatly missed!

Thank You
for playing chess
with the kids.

I will dearly miss Martha's warmth, humor, knowledge and joy in life. He was an just exceptional human,
and I only hope I and my family can emulate his spirit. We are lucky to have known him, and wish we had taken him upon his last minute
offer to host ~~us~~ Caton nights. I will be hard on opportunity to teach Isla chess. I am grateful he come into our lives and will treasure his memory. What a guy!

Martin took Kyle Joyner and I out to the windbag restaurant, bought us nachos, and talked to us about planning his narrative and the theme of the Helena Young Professionals wine tasting event. He gave a beautiful captivating presentation and wine tasting at the Holtrart museum, on behalf of Helena Young Professionals. Martin's enthusiasm, passion, kindness, and generosity has been an incredible inspiration to the Helena community. He will be missed very much by everyone here. — David S.

May Martin's influence transform many, many white zinfandel drinkers for years to come.
