We were very saddened to learn of David's death. We will truly miss not having him greet us as we walk into the museum. And we only knew him in the context of coming to the Holter, either to visit the galleries or the gift shop. Still, he knew us and our names and knew we were members and always greeted us with enthusiasm and grace. We never left without having had a lively and intriguing discussion on the books he had at his table or about one of the exhibits and the artists or even the weather. He made coming to the Holter something special, noteworthy, and unique. His presence at the Holter and in the community is what makes living in Helena so exceptional. We are not sure that if Helena were a large metropolitan center that a person so remarkable as David would have thrived and touched so many lives. Our lives are so much richer for having connected with David.
